

Prom On Way - - - - - Santa Cruz Seniors Visit Student Union Plans Presented To Board

Plans Are Being Considered By Board Members

Plans for a student union building at Hartnell College were presented to the Hartnell Junior College District Board of Trustees at the board meeting Wednesday night of this week. Hartnell trustees, with trustees-elect Ted Nelson and Dr. Edward Hirschberg sitting in, reviewed the plans with a May 27 meeting of the Monterey County Redistricting Committee in mind.

Representing the Hartnell College Student Union Committee, Mr. John Lemos, president of Hartnell College, presented preliminary plans for a building of 11,625 square feet. Problems discussed by the board were those of financing such a building, and comparison of practicality of a student union with that of dormitories and purchase of more land for Hartnell College.

As Mr. Frank Paul, president of the board, pointed out, no definite decision can be made until the redistricting committee has met. The redistricting committee is a state-appointed group, and will meet with trustees from all school boards in Monterey County, as well as with the Watsonville Union High School Board of Trustees.

The pertinence of the student union problem to the redistricting committee lies in the purpose of the committee. If the meeting next Wednesday produces definite results in regard to expansion of the Hartnell Junior College District,

Eppley Elected S.B. Prexy

President Dick Eppley

Will Lead Student Body At Hartnell Next Year

Dick Eppley will be president of the Hartnell College student body next year, according to the official results released by election committee chairman Emil Yappert. Approximately 260 student voters turned out to choose their representatives for the 1953-4 school year. In addition to the election of eight representatives the students approved the proposed amendment to the A.S.B. by-laws, 224-22.

Eppley earned the right to lead the student body by defeating Cloyse Little, 136 to 112. Eppley, a pre-med student, will succeed Ken Van Cleave as A.S.B. president. Although he is employed, he has been a very active student this year, being president of the freshman class and treasurer of Alpha Gamma Sigma. Dick is a graduate of Watsonville Union High School, where he served as senior class treasurer and was active in drama. "I feel honored to have been elected to this important student body office," stated the newly

"Guest In The House" Now Being Presented

"Guest in the House," the Hartnell Players' current offering, is an engrossing play about a suburban couple who give house room to a female guest and live to wring their hands in anguish as a result. The drama is shrewdly rendered, dexterously acted, and

Hirschberg and Nelson Win Places On School Board

Elected to the Hartnell College Board of Trustees on May 15, 1953, were Dr. Edward Hirschberg, 410 Homestead Avenue, and Mr. Ted E. Nelson, Jr., of 929 California Street. They will succeed Francis W. Paul, who was defeated for re-election, and Dr. Walter H. Farr, who did not run as a candidate. Holdover members are Frank J. Schonfelder, Dr. F. A. Pletta, and John P. Dolan, Jr. Mr. Nelson also was named to the Salinas City Elementary Board, succeeding Roy L. Ladra.

The vote was heavy, and leading all candidates were Mr. Nelson with 1,879 votes, followed by Dr. Hirschberg with 1,746 votes. Other candidates were Elton Tavernetti, Russ Hoss, Francis Paul, and Meyvn Nyman.

In a previous statement, Doctor Hirschberg, in reference to Hartnell, said, "If the students and the faculty feel that a student union is necessary, money should certainly be appropriated for it. Funds for a student union should not have to be raised by the students by themselves." Mr. Nelson, in previous conversation with Panther Sentinel reporters, held a Hartnell Student Union as being very important.

All bills to be paid out of this year's student body budgets, MUST BE IN the box of the commissioner of Finance, Dave Lewis, by May 29, 1953, unless special arrangements are made with the commissioner of finance.

Visiting Seniors To Tour Campus

Many interested Santa Cruz seniors will be touring the Hartnell campus today from 10:30 to 2:20.

The senior students from Santa Cruz will be brought to the college in Hartnell buses sent over for the purpose, and will be returned to Santa Cruz on the same buses.

The visitors will be given a guided tour of the campus and classrooms in the morning, given a free hot lunch in the cafeteria between 11:45 and 12:15, and allowed to tour the campus at will in the afternoon.

Also included on the agenda will be a visit to the Hartnell A. and M. for the boys, as well as a showing of the Junior Rose Bowl film, while the feminine visitors will be entertained by Hartnell coeds. Free copies of The Panther Sentinel will be distributed to the students visiting as well as the Hartnell students.

related to give the audience the horrors before the author disposes of the menace. If the couple had shown any sign of letting the little monster escape from the scene of her crime, the audience would have rushed up on the stage and torn her limb from limb. An approximation of these preceding statements are taken from the New York Times.

Because of the suspense of this play, Director Hal Ulrici is reluctant to give out the entire plot; but certain phases of the story can be divulged. Mrs. Proctor's cousin, Evelyn Heath, who has heart trouble and must be treated as an invalid, is the guest. Evelyn, who has a psychopathic terror of birds, is played by Virginia Vierra. Virginia is a former Hartnell Player who has been attending Santa Barbara College where she is majoring in speech and drama. She plans to visit Europe this summer and may attend the University of California at L.A. in the fall. She finds this role very exciting and a great challenge to her acting ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor are played by Mrs. Ruth Lee and Mr. John Pomeroy. Mrs. Lee is a fifth grade instructor at Santa Lucia School. She formerly taught in Hawaii and was associated with a community player group there. She also played a supporting role in "The Miser." The role of Ann Proctor requires stamina and interpretation, and (Continued on Page 2)

Soph Skit In Preparation

The students of Hartnell will be given the opportunity to view Hartnell College talent in the annual Sophomore Show, next Friday. Wallace Lowry, sophomore class representative, and Emil Yappert, class president, along with Jim Hitchcock, will direct the affair.

Participating in the show will be Hartnell College students only. Plans for the skits are now being prepared, and the show promises to be a big success.

Music Dept. Hold Bar-B-Q

The entire music department and its guests are invited to attend the annual barbecue at Arroyo Seco, in the government camp in a section reserved for the event, on Sunday, May 31. The picnic affair is scheduled for the entire day. The group will leave Hartnell College about 9 a.m. Sunday morning, and will spend the day swimming, hiking, and playing games, prior to the feast of the day, barbecued lamb, raised by Bill Gualarte.

The event is considered the highlight of the year for the music department, and is always a huge success. Mr. and Mrs. Lorell McCann, their son Rickey, and Mr. and Mrs. Vahé Aslanian and their family will participate in the outing. All members of the music department and their guests are urged to attend.

Hawaii Club Initiates New Club Members

Friday, May 16, the new members of the long standing Hawaiian Club were initiated. The members were barefoot and dressed in aloha shirts or the long flowing dresses which the Hawaiians call muuuus. The initiation lasted all day, cost $1 per person, and was carried over to Saturday night.

In spite of fog and wind the Saturday night barbecue was well attended. The steak was cooked over the coals at Carol Goodfriend's house, the members furnished the other ingredients for the barbecue. The ever-present ukulele provided the basis for the singing that followed the feast.

The main initiation at the barbecue consisted of giving a spoonful of poi to each new member before the member could proceed to eat the steak. Though there was some objection to the poi all enjoyed the barbecue.

Mrs. Lee is doing a good job of it. Mr. Pomeroy is doing his first job in amateur theater. He is employed locally with a prominent business firm.

Aunt Martha, who tries to warn the household to beware of their guest, is played by Elizabeth Snow.

Mary Ann Baldwin and Paul Edwards, Hartnell College Players, portray the artist's model and Mr. Proctor's brother Dan. Mary Ann is in charge of publicity and Paul is doubling as stage manager.

"Guest in the House" is being presented this week end, the first performance having taken place last night. Saturday night's performance will bring to a close the exciting presentation of the last of five major offerings of the Hartnell Players for the year 1952-3.

Naval Airmen To Talk Here

Arrangements have been made here at Hartnell for officials from the U.S. Naval Air Station at Oakland to "come aboard" and explain the aviation pilot training program of the navy, from which the marine corps aviators are also selected.

The interviewing officers for the flight training program of the navy and marine corps will visit here next week on Thursday, May 28, to furnish the students information on this combined regular and reserve officer candidate program to eligible students.

To be eligible to fly with the fleet, an applicant must have 60 or more semester hours, must be unmarried and remain so during training, must not have received orders to induction, and must pass physical and written aptitude examinations which are given at only a few locations in the U.S., of which Oakland Naval Air Station is the closest base for aviation cadets from Northern California and Nevada.

The navy flight training program requires 18 months, after which time the cadets are commissioned ensigns in the naval reserve or second lieutenants in the marine reserve and are assigned to operating squadrons, either on carriers or ashore. The commissioned aviators receive beginning pay of $370 monthly if single, or $455 if married or with other dependents.

If any student fails to see the interviewing officers when they are here at Hartnell, he may ask for more information about this program by sending his letters to U.S. Naval Air Station, Oakland 4, California.

Station Wagon Now On Sale

The well-known Hartnell College station wagon, controlled by the Associated Students of Hartnell College, was declared open for bids last Wednesday, by the Hartnell Board of Trustees. This action was performed by recommendation by the student commission, which advised the sale of the vehicle.

The station wagon was purchased in 1950 by the Associated Students, at which time the title was transferred to the Hartnell College District because of economy in operating expenses. It has been controlled by the student commission during this time, however.

Anyone who wishes to do so may bid on the station wagon, but all bids are subject to the bid rules set up by the board of trustees. The money derived from the sale of the station wagon will be returned to the student body budget, according to the board.

THINKING IT OVER

By KEN VAN CLEAVE

One of the most interesting and active election campaigns in the history of this college was conducted recently. The fervor of the campaign provided the school with much unusual entertainment, and many different approaches were used to attract votes. All in all, the methods of the campaign were welcomed by the voting students, who received a chance to express their opinions with the ballot, and who were the recipients of many gifts by the candidates, i.e., candy, chlorophyll gum, cigarettes, gum, matches, and even a dance in their honor, etc. Our congratulations go out to all the candidates for their hard work on the campaign. To the winners, work hard and accomplish a lot, and to the losers, keep the new officers "on the ball."

Now that the student body officers are elected it is your responsibility as students to help these new officers accomplish bigger and better things. Little can be done by these officers without your support. If you help them you are helping yourself to one of the most active and successful years this school has ever had.

Lewis, who defeated August Schmidt 150 to 71, for the vice-presidency; Linda Lawrence, in the closest contest of the election, defeated Sally Lipsett, 127-125, for secretary; Doris Simon for sophomore representative, winning over Dean Larkin, 133 to 118; and Ted Lang, who defeated Jerry Ledin for the men's representative post, 79-66. The other elected officers, who ran unopposed, are Esther Williams, commissioner of social activities; Angie Lavarato, women's representative; and Troy George, commissioner of rallies and assemblies. These newly-elected officers will be officially installed on May 29, but will not take over their duties until next year.

The amendment to the by-laws of the constitution of the Associated Students will add to the duties of the freshman class representative, who will now assist the commissioner of rallies and assemblies in his duties.

Correction . . .

In the May 8 edition of The Panther Sentinel, an erroneous reference was made concerning the office of president of the Hartnell Board of Trustees. The article listed Mr. Frank Schonfelder as president of that board, which is in error. Our apologies go out to Mr. Francis W. Paul, president of the Hartnell Board of Trustees, who has served in that capacity since July 1, 1949.

A&M Radio Shop Is Complete

"Hartnell A. and M. has one of the best equipped radio-television shops in the Salinas area," said Mr. Dennis Nelson, instructor for the A. and M. radio class. "This shop has all of the latest testing equipment plus all the necessary repair tools, with the equipment being valued at over $30,000," added Nelson.

The boys, after two years of training, become qualified to service any radio or television set.

STUDENT UNION . . .

the Hartnell board will have a more concrete basis on which to consider plans for additional buildings on the Hartnell campus.

The plans, the result of deliberations by the student union committee, under chairmanship of Dr. Luella Hall, include a multipurpose meeting room of 4,500 square feet, bounded by adjoining student and faculty lounges which increase the total area for large events to 8,100 square feet when accordion-type doors are folded back; a student store; offices for the alumni; student commission, journalism classes, club meetings; and janitors' closets and storerooms.

Student and faculty both were represented at the meeting and contributed various information concerning the need and desire for a student union. The present plan, drawn to scale by student Art Sauer, is in the custody of Dr. J. Frederic Ching, superintendent of the Hartnell district.

What the Draft Means to You

(This Is the Last in a Series of Six Articles)

By J. R. INGRAM

As you will have noted by now, the answer to "What shall I do?" can be made only on an individual basis. You will have to examine and weigh all the pros and cons, find the advantages and disadvantages that are most important to you and make your decision.

One boy may feel it's better for him to take the break between high school and college than do so after college. Another may feel just the opposite. One boy may have a strong preference for one branch of the service. Another may have none at all. One boy may be bent on following some specialty such as electronics while in uniform. Another may not care. And so on it goes through endless combinations of factors and circumstances.

Now for a note to parents. There are two considerations that have been ruled out of the discussion up to this point but which have to be mentioned.

First, your boy may feel very strongly about getting into uniform at once and serving his country in time of need. To him, this one conviction may outweigh even a discussion of other matters. If so, more power to him. Just don't let him violate the injunction against quitting high school.

Second, your boy may incline toward military service later rather than now. If so, don't let anyone make him feel like a slacker for choosing it. Selective Service deferments are not handed out for the fun of it. They have been set up for reasons of national interests as determined by the nation's leaders. Both you and he can be sure that Selective Service headquarters and his local board know what they're doing in letting him wait. If they need him or find he's abusing his rights, they'll find a way to call him.

Let's not forget your son's need for help may not stop with the problem of when and how to serve. How well can he face up to military service and adjust to it? Here are a few pieces of proven advice.

(1) Help him accept the fact that he must serve and help him understand his responsibility for doing so.

(2) This is very important! Let him alone once he's in. Don't cry on his shoulder after he's in uniform any more than before.

(3) Have you brought him up to be independent and self-reliant, encouraged him to think for himself and make his own decisions? Or have you kept him overdependent and overprotected, sought to think and decide for him, let him duck responsibilities? If it's the former, then rest assured that his adjustment to military life will not come hard; nor will he suffer from the experience. If it's the latter, do what you can to help him break the ties and get on his own feet.

Bus Drivers for Next Year Urgently Needed

Mr. Don Drew superintendent of transportation, made the announcement this week that there is an urgent need for bus drivers for the various college, high and junior high school runs for the next school year. The object in securing drivers now is that the remaining few weeks left will provide a training and licensing period for the new drivers.

Semester Election Committee Set

A committee, headed by Babette Giannini, to investigate the advisability of using semester elections was recently established at Hartnell College.

IN FAVOR

Many arguments have been presented for and against the proposition. An argument for semester elections is the fact that this method works freshman students into the commission and gives them a chance to attend student body conferences and learn more about the functioning of better student government. A second argument for semester elections is that it would give successful officers a chance to reinstate themselves in the commission, as well as to afford the student body an opportunity to replace unsuccessful officers.

OPPOSED

An argument against semester elections is the fact that there then would be a great turnover in student body offices, just when the new commission would be beginning to function properly. In this connection, too, a proposed plan for a class in parliamentary procedure for all freshmen planning to enter the commission is being considered.

The purpose of the session is to provide teachers with near-at-home opportunity to master educational techniques and gain experience which can be applied to their work. The cost for the summer session is $5 per quarter unit, with a general activity fee of $2. Registration Day will be June 22, the first day of classes.

Courses will be offered in art, education, industrial arts, natural science, physical education, psychology, and social science. Students interested in obtaining a bulletin describing the courses offered may do so in the office now.

Music Hope High Next Semester

Mr. Lorell McCann, chairman of the Hartnell music department, has high hopes for that department for next fall. He hopes to attain new uniforms for the marching band, and also plans on a 50-piece marching band to present an impressive first appearance at the opening football game of the year. The desired uniform for the band, which group, by the way, has had the same uniforms for 13 years, will be gold colored Eisenhower jackets and gold overseas caps with maroon braid trim. Even then, the present trousers will be used by the members.

The emphasis next fall will be on ensembles, especially trios, quartets, and sextets, that is, in addition to the regular orchestra and marching band.

There is optimism that with the publicity afforded Hartnell College as a result of the Rose Bowl the enrollment will increase enough to help carry out the hopes of Mr. McCann for the fall semester.

Many Students Of Hartnell Married Or Engaged Now

This was the year for engagement rings, wedding bells and roses at Hartnell College. Dan Cupid and the Rose Bowl bid went hand in hand to make this year a never-ending series of thrilling announcements.

FOOTBALL TIME

Several couples were joined in wedlock during the football season. A bye in the football schedule gave Diane Robinson, Jerry Ledin and Clive Bullian, Greta Peterson a chance to elope. Jerry and Diane are still attending Hartnell. Jerry works part time in a box factory and Diane is a dental assistant. Clive has taken out a leave of absence this semester to work, but will return in the fall.

Leon Snider and Veretta Bolin also married and dropped out of college at the end of the semester. Ann Post and George Ragus were married in January and are now living in King City. Muriel Bond and Edward Ryburn were married at the end of the semester, Muriel continuing her business studies. Justin Jackstis and Dorothy Achziger also joined the wedded ranks during last semester.

APRIL IS POPULAR

Ronald Reaves and Joan Beilby married in April and are still attending school. Jesse Bates and Joseph Fogel also married in April and dropped school just recently. Don Benedetti and Nadine Felice married in April.

Lorraine Borba and Don Jacob had a February wedding. Don, a Hartnell alumnus, is in the army, stationed at Fort Ord. Lorraine will graduate from Hartnell this June. Shirley Wharton and Carl

Draft Cut To Aid College Enrollment

It is expected that the 50 percent draft cut recently announced by General Hershey will cause a definite increase in college enrollment, including Hartnell, says Hartnell's President, J. B. Lemos.

It is thought that the draft reduction, plus other factor, may increase Hartnell's enrollment next year from the present total of 644 students to somewhere between 800 and 900 students.

Hansen were married May 10 and will reside in Salinas. They will complete this semester and Carl will return next fall. Jeannine Craddock and Jack Bird will be married May 23. Jack, an alumnus of Hartnell, and a lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force, will continue his officer's training in Texas where the couple will reside.

ENGAGEMENTS GALORE

Many Hartnell coeds have a sparkle on the second finger of the left hand. Ann Brooks and Jack Haggerty expect to marry within a year. Pat Nielsen and Wayne Heple announced their engagement in March and will marry in a year. Mary Jo Stout and George Martin, a student at Santa Clara, will marry in a year. Bob Train and Nancy Sbrana, a high school senior, announced their engagement in April. Bob Scofield and Gladys Fagundes are now engaged. Bob Gerberick and Ellen Denton announced their engagement in December. Darlene Clizbe and Ray Dyer, former prominent Hartnell student and now a student at San Jose State, announced their engagement in May. Rudy Sun and Joyce Vandiver announced their engagement recently also.

Girdner New C. O. S. Dean

Mr. Jerry H. Girdner, dean of guidance and counseling at Hartnell College, has accepted the administrative position as director of counseling at College of Sequoias, in Visalia, it was announced recently by Dr. Ivan C. Crookshanks, superintendent of C.O.S. district.

In addition to his counselling duties, Mr. Girdner will handle all vocational testing for the college, will be director of student personnel, and will be in charge of contacts with high schools in the area. At present, Mr. Girdner is serving in a similar capacity on an instructor's basis at Hartnell, with additional duties including the work of registrar, dean of men, and orientation and business classes instructor.

Following a year and a half as educational and vocational counselor for veterans at Hartnell, Mr. Girdner accepted his present post in 1948. He is replacing Robert V. Rodgers, who resigned at mid year to become director of Oceanside-Carlsbad Junior College.

In an interview, Mr. Girdner described his employment at Hartnell as "enjoyable," with a "good group of kids, and congenial faculty under the leadership of Mr. John Lemons, Hartnell president." He, his wife, and children, Nancy, 3; and James, 6 months, now reside at 1 Paseo Hermoso, San Benancio Canyon.

SAN JOSE GRAD

Mr. Girdner received his B.A. degree from San Jose State in 1940. At that time he was granted the Alpha Al Sirat award given to the outstanding graduate in the field of business administration. He then served five years in the army, serving in several major campaigns in Italy, and rose to the rank of ma-

Four Offices Of Student Body Are Still Vacant

Four student body positions still remain vacant, in spite of the recent student body election. They consist of the commissioner of finance, the commissioner of public relations, a head yell leader and the freshman class representative.

The commissioner of finance has been appointed, but has not been announced as yet, according to Miss Ruth Rothrock, finance advisor to the commission. This position is an appointive one by Miss Rothrock.

The commissioner of public relations will be selected next year upon the recommendation of the director of public relations and the approval of the student commission.

The head yell leader will be selected in the following manner: The president of the Associated Students will appoint a committee composed of students to hold a tryout for the head yell leader position. This committee will submit their recommendation to the student commission for its approval. The head yell leader will then appoint his assistants, again upon the approval of the commission.

The freshman class representative will be elected next fall by the incoming freshman class. He will then immediately begin his responsibilities in that position.

At present he is serving in the capacity of adjutant general in the United States Army Reserve at Fort Ord.

He received his M.A. degree from Stanford University in 1948 in the field of personnel and guidance. He is a member of Pi Omega Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, and the National Vocational Guidance Association.

Harts' Hopes In Athletics Next Year

In order to give the Hartnell student body a general impression of what to expect in the way of athletics next year, each coach has been interviewed relevant to his hopes in football, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis.

FOOTBALL

Football Coach Dick Voris thinks that Hartnell will take a back seat to no one on the gridiron, basing his theory primarily on the number of returning lettermen. Those coming back this fall who played on Hartnell's Junior Rose Bowl squad of '52 are: backs, Tony Teresa, Bob Scofield, Clive Bullian, and Chuck Dillard; ends, Jim Crain, Jerry Jackstis, Charles Olson, and George Wheeldon; tackles, Ken Coronado and Paul Malech; guards, Dick Herman, Jim Brandon, and Jim McClung; centers, John Perkins and Jerry Ledin. Wes McWilliams, who played in '51, and Gary Page, a Cal Poly transfer, are also slated to compete in the fall sport. All-important factors, of course, are the number of transfers, the quality of incoming freshman aspirants, and the effect of the draft.

BASKETBALL

Coach Ed Adams anticipates a good season for Hartnell in basketball next year. He plans to build his club around returning men Bob Larson, Bill Smith, Charles Olson, Bob Brune, and Don Williams, and Tony Teresa.

The factors already mentioned as figuring in football will greatly influence Hartnell's casaba hopes and also every other intercollegiate sport participated in by the college.

TRACK AND FIELD

Coach Adams will also tutor the track team, a position he has held regularly until this semester. Expected to return and help out in track and field are Bob Larson, high jumper (Coast Conference champ); Merle Clure, hurdler; and Louis Chapman, pole vaulter.

BASEBALL

Baseball Coach Jess Regli has high hopes for next spring providing those "factors" remain favorable. Regli will undoubtedly miss Jack Brooks who has played just about every position on the team in his two years at Hartnell. Coming back from the championship club of this season will be the following: Tom Klingensmith, Don Ridge, Morris Boutte, Dick Adams, Jack Matsuoka, Bill Smith, Ray Shields, Chuck Dillard, Tony Teresa, Dick Herman, and Glen Moore.

TENNIS

When interviewed, Tennis Coach Darwin Peavy stated that the majority of next year's players will have to come from the ranks of the new students. However, Mr. Peavy will probably refuse to field a squad next year if M.P.C.'s female player is allowed to compete in conference competition.

Grant Wins Playoff Although Brooks And Dillard Slam Homers

The Grant Tech Saracens, aided by the early lead they were able to build up, eked out a 7-6 victory over the Hartnell Panther horsehiders, Tuesday, May 12, on the local diamond, to advance to the Northern California Junior College finals.

Chuck Dillard started the game on the mound for the home club but was able to last only through the first inning as he was hampered by wildness. Grant pushed across three runs which were charged to Dillard although he allowed no hits and struck out the side in the first frame. Replacing the southpaw and completing the game for Hartnell was Jack Brooks, Dillard retiring to centerfield.

HARTS COME BACK

The Harts came back strong in the closing innings, scoring three runs in the final two. Highlighting this resurgence were the two homeruns by Dillard and Brooks. The former clouted his fourmaster in the eighth and it was a tremendous blast, landing far beyond the reach of the rightfielder; and the latter's came in the ninth with no one aboard. The other Panther run in the ninth stanza resulted from a single by Shields and a double by Glen Moore with a couple of foulouts spaced between the two base knocks. Herman grounded out to end Hartnell's baseball activities this year.

MOORE, MATTOS GET THREE

Third sacker Moore contributed three hits to the Hartnell cause, including two doubles, to tie Mattos of Grant who also collected three safe blows, all singles, however. Ray Shields hit safely twice as did Dillard and Brooks. Other Harts who managed to get on base via the base hit route were Tony Teresa and Tom Klingensmith.

Had it not been for the reality of too many mental mistakes, Hartnell probably would have won the ball game.

LEAGUE CHAMPS

Although his boys did not quite win the last one, Coach Jess Regli can be justifiably proud of the showing made by his club this year. The first conference baseball championship in the history of the college was won by the Hart nine, a noteworthy achievement and one deserving a great deal of praise.

Stress And Strain Lead In Softball

Last Friday marked the end of seven weeks of noon softball, with the Stress and Strain leading with 18 points and one loss, and the Sharp Eyes second with 16 points and two losses.

The Stress and Strain didn't appear in the loss column until last Wednesday, May 13, when it suffered a 17-6 loss at the hands of the Sharp Eyes, who are currently holding down second place. The pitcher for Stress and Strain, Ed Weber, allowed only seven bingles, but in addition to hits, he allowed 14 men to reach first base via the walk route.

Currently in third spot are the 5 Roses + 4 who have 14 points and four losses.

Friday, May 29, ends league play of noon softball, unless possible makeup games prove necessary to arrive at final league standings.

NEXT ISSUE . . .

In the final issue of Panther Sentinel, which will be the next one, look for a complete resume of Hartnell's activities in sports during the school year 1952-3.
